

Psychology

Awarding Body	AQA	Specification Code	7182/2
Purpose of the course	This course enables students to develop: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● essential knowledge and understanding of different areas of psychology and how they relate to each other● develop and demonstrate a deep appreciation of the skills, knowledge and understanding of the scientific methods used for research in psychology● develop competence and confidence in a variety of practical, mathematical and problem-solving skills● develop their interest in and enthusiasm for psychology including developing an interest in further study and careers associated with the subject● understand how society makes decisions about scientific issues and how psychological research contributes to the success of the economy and society.● essential knowledge and understanding of different areas of psychology and how they relate to each other
Entry requirements	Ideally Grade 5 or above in Biology or Science, Mathematics and English Language
Type of qualification	A Level: graded A* to E
Course contents	Students will study the following eleven topics in the course: Paper 1 – Introductory topics in Psychology <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Social Influence● Memory● Attachment● Psychopathology Paper 2 - Psychology in Context <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Approaches in Psychology● Biopsychology● Research Methods Paper 3 - Issues and Options in Psychology <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Issues and Debates in Psychology● Gender● Schizophrenia● Aggression
Assessment method	Three externally assessed exam papers. Each assessment is 2 hours consisting of 96 marks. <ul style="list-style-type: none">● The papers may include multiple-choice, short open, open-response, calculations and extended writing questions.● The papers will include questions that target mathematics at Level 2 or above and a minimum of 10% of the marks across the three papers will be awarded for mathematics at Level 2 or above. At least 25 – 30% of the overall assessment will assess skills, knowledge and understanding in relation to research methods.
Further studies	Psychology A Level is highly regarded by universities and employers alike.
More information from	Mrs Grant		